From the President

March goes out like a lamb? Whoever wrote that obviously didn't live in northern New England. It seems like March is exiting more like a wolverine with a toothache. But the days are getting longer, small green things are visible in the patches where the snow has melted, and it's officially SPRING – yes!

Do you feel anticipation in the air, as the world wakes up? I certainly do.

Great news! On Sunday March 12, we as a congregation voted overwhelmingly in favor of entering into an intentional shared ministry with the Sanford Unitarian Universalist Church (SUUC). This follows the SUUC's affirmative vote which took place on March 5. I very excited about the new opportunities and possibilities as we chart our futures together. Now we move forward! Please see Rev Steve's notes elsewhere in this edition of The Messenger.

A big thank-you to the Board for hosting the Annual Pledge Drive kick-off dinner. It was creative and fun, and it gave us a strong start to our pledge campaign. Thank-you to everyone who has been able to pledge their financial support to our beloved community. Time, talent, financial support – it truly takes a village.

Warm regards,
Niki

Along the Way

I think I might be interested in serving on the ministerial search committee. What's involved and how much time would it take?

"I'm glad you asked," said the interim minister. "This is one of the most important and rewarding ways of serving your church. Reflecting its importance, it does take a fair amount of time and a real commitment to the future of the whole congregation. Let me tell you more."

Now that both churches have voted overwhelmingly to proceed toward an intentional cooperative ministry and joint search committee, our next order of business will be to select the ministerial search committee (MSC). I'm gratified that a number of people in both churches have expressed interest in doing so; of course, they're understandably concerned to find out what's involved, how long it will take and what the time requirements will be. Let me sketch out the requirements.

Time Commitment: The MSC will be selected and in place by late May or early June. It will begin its work over the summer and will be expected to meet regularly, perhaps weekly. Its tasks will include the crafting of a congregational survey (for which there will be plenty of guidance from UUA) soliciting your thoughts about the future of the church particularly in relationship to a new minister. You will be asked to share what might be important to you about the theology, leadership skills, pastoral sensitivity and other aspects of a minister who will both serve and lead the church for some years to come. The creation, distribution and collation of the survey will be done largely by e-mail, it will take far less time than it used to in days gone by, but is still an important task that will proceed over the summer. The MSC will also assemble background information on the churches: history, finances, membership, worship life, religious education, physical plants, etc. etc. that will be posted to the Transitions Office search website at UUA Headquarters in Boston and serve as the churches' initial "calling card" to ministers in search.

Meanwhile, the MSC will also begin to create a more complete church "packet" including all of the information mentioned above, plus aspects of the communities and local area such as quality of life, school systems, etc. This is intended to give the prospective minister a complete picture of both churches and their communities at this point in time. A paper version of this packet will then be shared with the churches. (Members of churches who have not been in search for years often find this extensive document very informative about aspects of the church they might not have known.) The digital version will be shared with interested ministers as the process goes forward.

Meanwhile, ministers in search will have created a long and comprehensive "minister's record" that will give an overview of their life in relation to their call to ministry, their involvement with church and church leadership, their entire professional history in ministry as well as answers to searching questions about theology, philosophy of ministry, leadership style and vision for their future in ministry. They will also be asked to share about their life outside church—interests and hobbies, for example—as well as family situation. The digital version of the packet will be placed on the same UUA Transition website as the churches' record. On a given date, usually around November 1, the "curtain goes up;" ministers and MSCs will be free mutually to peruse these very complete documents and then decide if they wish to proceed further in the search process with a particular church or minister.

For the church, this happens within the MSC as the members together decide on perhaps two to three ministers who are then considered "pre-candidates." If the minister is also interested, the MSC will then make arrangements to meet the minister in person on a weekend, hear them preach and lead worship at a mutually convenient "neutral pulpit," take them to lunch and have further conversation. (This stage generally takes place in a late winter time frame.) The purpose of this is to select the one final "candidate" that the MSC feels will best fit the needs of the churches. The MSC then invites the minister in question to be its candidate; if the invitation is accepted, then a small negotiating team from the church is named to finalize with the minister all details of the contract offer in regard to compensation, etc. When this has been mutually accepted, the MSC will publically announce their choice of a "candidate" to the churches, giving a complete introduction of the minister in question, probably including the website of the minister, which these days has become a common aspect of a minister's professional persona.

CLYNK

Please remember to help UUCSB by returning your bottles and cans through the CLYNK service at Hannaford. Green bags may be picked up at the welcome table when you come to church on Sundays. Please remember that Market Basket labeled bottles and cans are not accepted by CLYNK.

BOT Notice

Board of Trustees agendas are posted one week prior to the meetings. Approved Board minutes are also posted. You can find these items on the bulletin board nearest the Sanctuary.

Music Notes

Music Notes from Choir Director, Ellie R.

When we stand on the low rungs of the ladder of sorrow, we cry.

When we come to the middle, we're silent.

But when we climb to the top of the ladder of sorry, we convert sadness into song.

Ancient Hebrew

The History of UU Hymnody, continued: We have now come to our current hymnal, 'Singing the Living Tradition'. Many of our copies are from the first printing in 1993. The opening words in the preface say: "Though the pages of this hymnbook are being bound in the twentieth century, they will open into the twenty-first. That realization permeated our work, for these will be simultaneously the last words of one era and the first words of the next. We remember the phrase of our predecessors: 'religion is a present reality; it is also an inheritance'. Or to use a more current expression, a living faith must have both roots and wings. A hymnbook is one place where we find both." There are words and music from other countries and in other languages and many of the songs in this hymnal were written by or arranged by Unitarian Universalist musicians.

Morning Song: At 9:50 one Sunday each month I am in the sanctuary leading 'gathering singing'. Please join us in singing! If you prefer not to sing, please sit quietly in the sanctuary and enjoy the music or gather with friends in the parish hall or hallway for conversation. The next 'Morning Song' is Easter Sunday, April 16.

TriQuire: TriQuire once again had a great run! The choirs from Saco, Sanford and Kennebunk joined together and sang at each church during the month of March. It was wonderful to bring so many voices together to add to the fabric of our worship. Many thanks to all of the singers, Rev. Charlie Grindle (choir director in Kennebunk and Sanford), Rev. Laura K-J Campbell (minister in Kennebunk), Rev. Steve Cook, Anne Wilkinson (cello) and Alex Caron (piano). Stay tuned next fall for news of the 2018 TriQuire as this collaboration continues.

Singing for Easter: Rehearsals for Easter Sunday will be on April 2, 9 and 16 (Easter Sunday). If you would like to join the choir for a short term this is a great opportunity to do so. All voices are welcome but we could especially use a bass or two!

Ukulele Players: I know you're out there! If you play the ukulele and would be willing to play special music in a trio/quartet/quintet.... (depends on how many we have!) some Sunday – please let me know. Conrad C. and I will lead the group.

Please Wear Your Nametag

We're very fortunate to have many new people attending our church. This makes wearing our nametags all the more important. Please be sure to pick up your nametag and wear it to the service AND coffee hour.

The Membership/Welcoming Committee has designed a new nametag board to hold clip-on tags, so you do not have to pin tags through your clothing. There is a basket next to the door so it will be easier to drop your nametag before leaving. If you need a new nametag, please see the signup sheet on the nametag board.

Information

Want to find out more about our church? Thinking about becoming a member?

To learn more about our congregation:

Please speak to any member or someone from the Membership- Welcoming Committee. Plan to attend a Sharing Your Spiritual Journey orientation.

To learn more about our faith and practice:

Various aspects of Unitarian Universalism are explained in brochures kept in a rack as you enter the sanctuary. You are welcome to take these home. You can also talk with members of our congregation.

Our Church:

We are a voluntary association of those committed to this special religious community. We share common values, but we do not require or expect conformity to any specific religious beliefs. We welcome each person's spiritual exploration and expression. Web sites www.uuchurchsac-biddeford.com, or www.uua.org, contain more information on the traditions, activities and people of our church and association. Our Membership-Welcoming Committee is also willing to assist you.

Our Membership:

Those who sign the Membership Book agree to sustain our church through continuing contributions of time, effort and financial support. All members are part of the non-profit corporation that owns the church, and they govern it through democratic process in which each one is entitled to be heard. Members elect a Board of Trustees and must also approve the "call" of a minister to our pulpit. By participating in our worship, events and activities, you'll get a sense of how this congregation might work in your life, and you in the life of the congregation. As you discover the privileges and responsibilities of membership, we recommend that you take the time to:

- Attend a Sharing Your Spiritual Journey orientation offered by the Membership Committee to find out more about Unitarian Universalism and our church's history and traditions.
- Attend church for a while to get to know the community and think about whether you share in our common values and feel ready to make a commitment to the shared spiritual journey.
- Decide your financial and time commitment to this church community.

When you're ready, speak to the chair of Membership or president about signing the Membership Book!

News

A candidating week will then be scheduled, Sunday-to-Sunday, usually in a late May time frame. After having preached the first Sunday, the minister (and perhaps family for some of the time) will be available through the week to meet and greet groups and individuals within the congregations. The week is capped by preaching the second Sunday, after which the minister is taken out to lunch by the MSC while a congregational meeting, called for that purpose, votes on extending the call to the minister. This decision is communicated immediately to the minister, who then decides whether or not to accept the call. (While a church may specify a certain percentage of its vote in order to extend a call, in practice, if an affirmative vote is not in the very high ninety percent range, no minister will accept the invitation.) If the call is accepted, there is usually a very happy adjournment of the lunch back to the church, where a celebration ensues.

That is the general outline of how the process usually goes. As you can see, the members of the MSC accept a charge from the congregation to do a fair amount of work for at least a year. It will involve many meetings, perhaps weekly for some of that time. It will involve some amount of travel to a neutral pulpit (in our area, where there are many UU churches, this will not be too far away.)

Members of the MSC must have the trust of the congregation, as much of their work will be done in confidence. Only the MSC will see the preliminary information on the various ministers under consideration. Only the MSC will know who the pre-candidates will have been. While the MSC can (and should) give general updates about where they are in the timeline of the search, all other information will be held within the MSC.

I cannot stress too much that the members of the MSC must have the trust of the congregation. They must be members who have been active and involved for some time, who know the church well. They must commit to regular attendance at worship services during the duration of the search, for while they cannot share confidential information, they must be available to members for reassurance and conversation. They must be known for their willingness to work for the whole church, not just one particular interest group. They must be known to work well with others and, if need be, to give more weight to the needs of the church than to their own personal desires or opinions.

I would be happy to talk personally, by phone or by email, with anyone who would like to know more about this. As a lay member, years ago, I chaired an MSC; I found it to be the most satisfying and important work I ever did for the church as a layman. All search committee members I have worked with in my years as an interim minister have felt very much the same. It is demanding, but rewarding, and I commend it to your attention.

Share the Plate

Guided by our 7 principles, once a month, our congregation shares a portion of the Sunday morning offering with an organization that supports our principles. In recognition of Earth Day (April 22), this month we will be sharing our gifts with the Eastern Trail Alliance (ETA). ETA is a 65-mile section of the East Coast Greenway, connecting Kittery, in southernmost Maine, to Casco Bay in South Portland. The ETA has 22 off-road miles from Bug Light (in South Portland) to Kennebunk, as well as a scenic on-road route that mostly follows quiet country roads. Bike riders and hikers enjoy a beautiful journey from South Portland to the Piscataqua River in Kittery. Our gifts will help the ETA with their current fund drive to close a critical 1.6-mile gap between South Portland and Scarborough. Let's continue the vision of John Andrews.

Easter Breakfast

The BOT has decided to have an Easter Pot Luck Breakfast on Sunday, April 16, 2017 at 9:00 AM in the Parish Hall. There is a sign up list on the Bulletin Board in the Parish Hall. Please provide your name, how many in your group and what you will bring.

Look forward to celebrating with the Easter Bunnies.

The Worship Committee is looking for new members.

We meet 3-4 times during the church year and in late summer to coordinate the worship calendar, solicit lay leaders and contract guest ministers for Sundays when Rev. Steve is not leading service. This is a rewarding and important task to serve our congregation. If you are passionate about shaping meaningful worship for our community, please contact one of the current members: Niki, Tom, Jane P or Meret. Our next meeting will be in spring to plan summer worship services.

Land Acquisition Update

March 8, 2017

In a giant step forward this past week (3/7/17), Eric B. Cote, Esq. finished his official title and record search relative to who owns the land beneath and around our building. Mr. Cote spent time at the York County Court House, at City Hall, at the Dyer Library and in our own Archives looking for any evidence of property transfer. He looked at dates from 1760 to the mid 1970's.

At this time Mr. Cote is assured that there has not been any documented evidence of property transfer. He recommends that we relay this information to Mayor Michaud and the City Council for consideration and ask that the big parcel of land outlined at our Oct. meeting be deeded to us. We will do that if directed to do so by the Board of Trustees.

Please be aware that the City would like to work with us on this and the Mayor has been in touch to check on our progress regarding the title search.

Thank you all for participating in the Photos of UUCSB Life identification contest. The identification of those pictured is posted beneath each picture. Please take a minute to look at these wonderful glimpses of us in our near past. Sonja Gerken identified the most folks in the photos. Jeannine Wilson and Anne Wilkinson finished close behind Sonja. Prizes are being awarded to these folks. Remember what has just happened is our history as much as what happened a hundred years ago.

TD Bank Affinity Program

UUCSB is in the TD Bank Affinity Program, which is only for nonprofit organizations. TD Bank will make a donation for each church member that has a TD Bank checking account. This is a way for the church to get donations without having to do anything. Church member personal accounts are associated with the church account and in doing so the church benefits. It in no way affects member's personal accounts and no information is shared. Church members that have TD Bank checking accounts just need to call TD Bank or stop in at any location and tell them that you are a member of UUCSB and what your TD Bank account number is. If you have any questions about the Affinity Program, Tracey Bell, the TD Bank manager in Biddeford would be happy to answer your questions. Her phone # is 283-8590.
